

Research Projects

This section presents various national and international research projects related to textbooks and school heritage, in which the MANES Research Center has participated, both as a member of the research teams on some occasions, and as project leader on others.

